

Child Safety Seat

RESOURCE CENTER

Promoting Safe and Smart Travel for Kids

The Child Safety Seat Resource Center (CSSRC) is Oregon's central source of information and assistance for child-passenger safety education and training.

Helping Families in Need

CSSRC provides vouchers and discounted child safety seats to local health departments for qualifying families. Donations are welcome.

Child Safety Seat Help Line

Our Help Line, features a toll-free number and interpretive services.

Check Up Events Calendar

Our website features a calendar of events—go to: www.actsoregon.org.

Community-based Training

CSSRC trains individuals across the state in the correct installation of child safety seats. Join our network of hundreds of volunteers and certified technicians who organize safety seat events and fitting stations in communities.

Oregon Child Passenger Safety Law

CSSRC wants families to know that Oregon law requires children between 40 and 60 pounds and children who are at least four years of age and under six years of age to use a booster seat. Children under four years of age or under 40 pounds are required to be properly buckled up in safety seats
